About last week's Friday lecture:

I am fully aware that some of you gave me a notice about it

Gentile Professore,

In riferimento alla presenza per la lezione odierna, La informo che il gruppo di cui facciamo parte la cui presenza è nei primi banchi, oggi è impossibilitato a seguire la lezione, per la restante parte del gruppo non so, e non posso darLe riscontro.
Cordiali saluti

But I could not tell whether anyone else was coming, so I came anyway

So, today we are going to evaluate a case study

1. We look at a real case study
2. Form groups of 2–3 people at most
3. Study what the question is asking, and look at the data
4. Formulate some opinions, and the approach you would use
5. Present your results

Today's lab: a case study

The Carta elettronica del docente is an instrument introduced by Law 107/2015 ("Buona Scuola") to support teachers' continuous training and to enhance their professional skills. It is an annual bonus worth €500, for teachers in state schools, to be spent by the end of the school year following the one in which it is assigned. The card can be used freely to buy several categories of goods and services: (1) hardware and software; (2) books and magazines; (3) cinema and theatre; (4) training courses. To use the bonus, teachers must first register on a dedicated online platform.

Since 2016 the State has allocated €380 million a year to fund this measure. The Ministry of Education and Merit is currently conducting a study to evaluate the implementation and the effects of this policy. For this purpose it has collected some administrative data, reported in Table 1.

The questions

Based on the information provided, analyse the main evidence on the implementation of the Carta del docente, indicating which indicators it would be useful to compute, and how.

In addition, illustrate which strategy could be adopted, and which other data would be needed, to evaluate the effectiveness of the Carta docente in terms of improving the educational offer.
